

DAY'S DOINGS ON THE WATERFRONT

CHARLESTON ARRIVES IN AND LEADS YORKTOWN TO PORTLAND—STATE OF CALIFORNIA OUT—YEDDO DUE DOWN

The British tramp steamship Yeddo, which has been to Portland for part cargo of lumber, returns to the Tongue Point mills today for the balance of her stuff, and will be loaded out in a hurry, in order to get her to San Francisco in time to leave out of that port on June 5, with the royal mails for Samoa and the Australias. She will take from the T. P. mills 2,500,000 feet of lumber beside what she took on at Portland. Part of it is for Samoa and the balance for Sydney.

True to her wireless message to the Yorktown, of Friday, that "she would be in Astoria at 1:30 on Saturday," the cruiser Charleston entered port and passed up the bay on the dot. As she came up the harbor she signalled the waiting Yorktown and that fine little vessel instantly forged into the wake of the big ship and the two went on to the metropolis, with Captain Bill Patterson on the bridge of the Charleston and Captain Pease guiding the gunboat.

The fine old general utility steamer, Harvest Queen was busy for several hours yesterday in the north channel of the harbor laying spar buoys for the use of the Potter and other O. R. & N. craft in approaching the new river station of that company, Megler, across from this city; having done this she wended her way back to the metropolis.

The Harvest Queen came down early yesterday morning with the four-masted schooners W. R. Hume and King Cyrus on her tow lines. The Cyrus went to the Tongue Point mills dock to finish her load, and the Hume is in the channel ready for sea this morning.

The State of California came down on time yesterday afternoon and went to sea after a brief stay at the O. R. & N. docks. She had a good manifest of freight and plenty of cabin passengers.

The bar pilot schooner Pulitzer entered port yesterday and sailed to her anchorage off the O. R. & N. pier. She is on her monthly quest for supplies of all sorts.

The deep-sea trawler Evie went to sea at 2 p. m. yesterday on her initial venture in the new scheme of wholesale fishing.

The steamer Tallac, a new member of the steam schooner fleet to enter this port, came in yesterday from San Francisco, and went on to Portland.

The steamer Alliance s due down and out for Coos at 4 o'clock this morning.

The steamer Argyle came down Portland yesterday and went to sea and the Bay City last evening.

The big oil tank steamer Atlas came down from Portland yesterday and proceeded to sea forthwith.

HONORING THE DEAD

Memorial Day Ardentlly Observed Here

NOT A GRAVE IS NEGLECTED

Flowers Were Scarce, But Enough to go Around—Splendid Memorial Services Last Evening With Music, Drills and Addresses.

Yesterday, despite the chill of the belated season and the threats of rain that portended all the day, and notably observed by the people of Astoria and Clatsop County generally. By team and by boat, the hosts of thoughtful and loving among the living, sought out the graves of the cherished dead, in all the cemeteries in and out of the city; and the reports that come from Ocean View, Greenwood, Pioneer, Hillside, and Granger tell of hundreds of hundreds that visited them and marked the last grave in each, until none was neglected anywhere.

In spite of the paucity of flowers they were in evidence on all sides, not as profuse as in the years of earlier and more abundant season, but ample to mark the day and the last resting place of those to whom they are annually dedicated. All day long carriages and wagons and auto's were driven in and out of the city and the river and bay was thick with boats in public and private service, in this devoted behalf.

Last night, under the auspices of the Cushing Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Ladies of the Grand Army, there was held at the Astoria Theatre, a splendid memorial meeting at which a solid thousand of men, women and children were present to round out the duties and sentiment of the sad yet great day of the year. Charles H. Abercrombie presided at the meeting and was supported on the stage by the following staff of honored old veterans: B. F. Allen, Thomas Dealey, A. D. Craig, O. F. Morton, Charles S. Wright, A. Scherneckau, William Dench, C. Timmons and Mr. Reed; Howard M. Brownell holding the post of orator of the evening.

A fine program had been arranged for the occasion and it was executed in detail without a flaw, and with general and generous satisfaction to all present. It consisted of songs, recitations, drills, and instrumental music, the children being delightfully conspicuous in many of the features of the evening, especially in the drills which were unique and beautiful. It is impossible to segregate the clever people and groups that won distinct and deserved encomiums during the progress of the long and appropriate list of contributions, and the declaration that only the happiest and heartiest of expressions were heard on all sides at its close, must suffice for the time.

The address of the evening was delivered by Howard M. Brownell, the well known young attorney of this city, who spoke feelingly and eloquently upon the theme of the hour and the memories of the day, directing his periods in part to the old soldiers with tributes of honor for the part they took in the great of the 60's and reviewing that conflict in terms of interest and with clever adherence to the leading historic facts; and in part, to the children, admonishing them to cling to the memories and the examples and the lessons of the war, and so bend their lives and characters as to make them, one and all, fitting heirs of the tremendous gift of a redeemed and glorified country, saved and re-united, and bequeathed to them by the old Grand Army.

Mrs. C. H. Abercrombie was in charge of the music and she left nothing to be desired from the first to the last note of it. The meeting was counted to be among the most successful ever held in this interest in Astoria.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

MANAGER WHYTE SENDING IMPORTANT CIRCULAR LETTERS THROUGHTOUT UNITED STATES.

About 600 letters are being sent throughout the United States covering every soft wood manufacturer in the country by Manager Whyte of the Chamber of Commerce, calling their attention to the fact that there is probably a larger supply of soft wood or Douglass fir, spruce and hemlock in the vicinity of Astoria than anywhere else in the world and advising them to establish their branch or additional factories in Astoria, as there is enough soft wood wasted and burned in local sawmills refuse burners to manufacture all of the matches and all the soft wood articles of commerce in the United States for a considerable number of years. Mr. Whyte goes on to explain the excellent water and rail transportation facilities of Astoria which will be greatly improved in a few years by the completion of the Panama Canal; and which will give the manufacturers an advantage over the Atlantic markets, and in case they should want to get well established here before that time, that could not be met by any of their eastern competitors. Mr. Whyte concludes by inviting their correspondence into detail, and assures them of Astoria's hearty co-operation.

IN LINE FOR ENDORSEMENT.

Sheriff M. R. Pomeroy Has Just Claim on the Renewed Suffrage of Clatsop.

This is the attitude of Clatsop's present sheriff. Mr. Pomeroy has done his unqualified best to fill the task assigned him two years ago, and has made known his desire to again serve the people, and there is no reason why he should be denied the confirmation and approval such re-election will confer.

There is no adequate reason for refusing him the office; he has done the work handled the big money-trust his office imposed with characteristic ardor and good faith, and there will be few to say him nay in the ballot booths of Clatsop tomorrow.
